"Best of the Main Line" Benefits Womens Resource Center

This year, Main Line Today magazine donated the proceeds of its "Best of the Main Line" event to WRC as well as Home of the Sparrow and Mommy's Light.

More than 500 people attended the event held on July 23 at the Drexelbrook, which featured great food and entertainment. WRC extends heartfelt thanks to Publisher Sally Holub and everyone at Main Line Today for putting together this amazing event and including WRC! A fun time was had by all.

Above, WRC's new Board President Lisa Satteson, Executive Director Michele Daly, and Coordinator of Volunteers Sue Deutch enjoy the evening in front of the WRC display.

About the Womens Resource Center (WRC)

For more than 30 years, the Women's Resource Center (WRC) has been a beacon of light for Delaware Valley women experiencing crises or life transitions including abuse, homelessness, job loss, single parenthood, depression, divorce, and deprivation of basic needs.

At the Center, women from all over the region find compassionate, experienced staff and volunteers trained to help others live healthier, more fulfilled lives through information, education and support.

Last year the Center served more than 4,000 women - many from low-income backgrounds and in need - through core programs such as Single Mothers Support, as well as our extensive referral network. WRC's Girls Leadership Program works with middle school girls to encourage self-esteem, positive decision making and career planning.

As a non-profit organization, we rely exclusively on donations from individuals, businesses and foundations to continue the Center's essential programs and services.
